Dear to whom it may concern:

I have great concerns re the suggested changes re puppy farming. The present format actually will assist puppy farmers as they will be the ones able to afford to buy properties to get a breeders licence from their local authorities.

Early sterilization is total abuse on the dog and in fact in some countries this is seen as cruelty and is banned.

The ANKC has very strict rules on members and fines with suspension of membership is passed down on those who infringe the rules.

My submission is that members of ANKC and its member bodies are exempt from the mandatory sterilization of their dogs.

Sincerely,

Jill Houston
